

Gives Vietnam War Another Three Years

SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu predicts the war in Vietnam will be reduced to a relatively minor frontier action within three years.

In a wide-ranging interview, he denounced foreign critics, denied there were any policy differences with the United States, confirmed he opposed the U.S. halt to the bombing of North Vietnam in November 1968 and saw complete failure for the Paris peace talks.

Thieu said the war would end by the pacification of the South, the decline of North Vietnam's war-making potential through manpower losses, morale problems, divided leadership and the loss of "the United States as the imperialistic bogeyman, through the carrying out of the Nixon doctrine, which I entirely approve."

The president said the greatest accomplishments of his administration had been to "bring security to more than 95 per cent of the population."

He denied that he held any veto over U.S. policy because of the alliance between his government and that of President Nixon, as some U.S. critics have charged. He said the two countries were "making common cause" and that there were no significant policy differences between them concerning war or peace.

Thieu described former President Lyndon B. Johnson as "in large measure the savior of the freedom of South Vietnam."

Discussing foreign critics, Thieu emphasized a distinction between those who justly criticize South Vietnam's shortcomings but recognize progress when it occurs, and those whose condemnations of his regime "have made no allowance for change."

He spoke of some U.S. senators as in the latter group. He described them as "not constructive, ignorant, and politically motivated." He said that most of them "never come to Vietnam" and thus were incompetent to judge the progress of developments there. He mentioned no names.

He said the Communists had succeeded in exploiting the 1968 U.S. election campaign despite military catastrophes, and that the bombing halt, called just before the election, was a mistake, turning jobs were unchanged after five straight monthly drops.

The report said most of the rise in unemployment was among young people aged 16 to 24 and that the big jump may have resulted because of an early survey week. Many young people in that week may not have stopped actively seeking jobs to return to school, the bureau said.

The unemployment total included 1,562,000 men, 1,598,000 women and 1,131,000 teenagers.

The jobless rate for men aged 20 to 24 shot up from 8.5 to 11 per cent, highest in nine years.

Unemployment rates increased for both white and Negro workers, up from 4.8 to 5.1 per cent for whites and from 8.4 to 9 per cent for Negroes, the report said.

The jobless rate for men rose from 3.7 to 4 per cent. The rate for women went up from 4.8 to 5.1 per cent and the rate for teenagers increased from 15.9 to 16.8 per cent.

although he expressed gratitude and admiration for Johnson.

Thieu said the Paris talks would never get anywhere because Hanoi would then have to explain to its people why 600,000 of their countrymen had died in a war against the South that they had not won.

lay on the sidewalks.

Egyptians walked in large numbers to their local mosques for services.

In the early hours today, only a small honor guard watched over Nasser's mausoleum in the gardens of Nasser Mosque in Cairo's suburbs. However, as the sun rose, Egyptians began gathering around the mosque.

Speculation in Beirut, meanwhile, was that Nasser's political heirs would set up a presidency council to rule in place of acting President Anwar Sadat. Designed to head off a divisive power struggle, the council would include Sadat; Ali Sabry, secretary general of the Arab Socialist Union; Hussein Shafi, a conspirator with Nasser in the 1952 overthrow of King Farouk, and Gen. Mohammed Fawzi, the army's commander-in-chief and war minister.

In London, the Daily Telegraph reported under a Cairo dateline that the army had taken control of Egypt under orders from Nasser's successors.

MUNICIPAL

Rogers, "asked me if I would endorse the city administrator or city manager form of government."

Zimmerman said he wrote Mrs. Duty and told her he was "not in the business of endorsing any form of government." Zimmerman then said that Mrs. Duty "seemingly has written to all city managers and said I was against the city manager form of government."

"What is amusing to me is that Fort Smith always accused me of being pro city manager," Zimmerman said.

The report alleges that the league has not been neutral in serving the various forms of local government. The report said the league has taken part in trying to promote certain types of government in certain places and that the league's functions cannot be obtained when it formally or informally supports one form of government over another.

The report also said the league had not remained neutral in elections. The report claimed that "Municipal League officials apparently talking as individuals and yet clearly designated as league officers endorsed a candidate for the office of governor running in the Democratic party primary." Some league officials, who said they were acting as individuals, did endorse Joe Purcell in the first primary.

"If the league is to deal with any candidate who is elected, we would seriously question the maturity, judgment and wisdom of endorsing one candidate over another," the report said.

The report also said the league has been unsuccessful in lobbying activities, and that the mayors were "appalled at the lack of success the league has had in bringing municipal concerns and needs to the attention of the General Assembly."

The report said the state turn-back of $5 million to cities "clearly indicated" that the General Assembly is not aware of the financial crisis confronting most cities in the state. The report recommended employment of a professional lobbyist.

The report also criticized relatives being employed by the league and recommended that the Executive Committee prohibit nepotism.

"We believe this paper clearly sets forth our position in these matters," the report stated. "This paper is presented to the Executive Committee so that all persons can be made aware of the fact that we as publicly elected officials have made a sincere attempt to work with the league in ironing out valid concerns regarding the league's operations."

"Therefore, if the Executive Committee and the league staff are not desirous of making these adjustments, we as locally elected officials would find it difficult to continue our support of the Municipal League as it is presently operated," the report said.

Answering the charge that the league has not done an effective job of lobbying, Zimmerman said cities now receive $17

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Selective Service System has told local draft boards that age 26 marks the border of a sanctuary they may not invade, even in hot pursuit.

At 26, explained draft Director Curtis W. Tarr, a man is too old for combat duty and drafting him might only jeopardize his fellow soldiers.

Tarr explained his views in an interview after draft spokesmen conceded new regulations might allow "dozens even hundreds" of men to escape the draft by using procedural delays until their 26th birthday.

The regulations, announced Wednesday, were in an executive order signed by President Nixon last Saturday upon the recommendation, spokesmen said, of Tarr.

"The change is affecting a very insignificant number," said a draft spokesman.

But he added, "we fully expect there will be dozens, even hundreds who do it."

The escape route of delay, however, would not be easy, he warned.

"Few will pay the price," he said, for it would take a heavy toll in skill, money, and years of uncertainty.

Those who do, however, must be replaced by other men in meeting the Pentagon's draft calls.

"Instead of these men, the system would take a couple of hundred younger, better qualified men," said the official spokesman.

Tarr acknowledged this involved a question of fairness.

"You have to balance the safety factor for equity against the safety factor for the people who have to work with them once they get into the service," said Tarr.

He said Congress, in Selective Service legislation, had picked 19 to 26 as the desirable age limit for military induction, with the exception of doctors, whose training takes longer.

"We decided," Tarr continued, "that if 26 is a reasonable limit, then let's not go all out and get the man after he's past 26 ... you have to think about the combat situation and who will be best qualified. In practical terms, it's the only fair thing."

Men who reached age 26 without being drafted have for years been moved far down the priority list, to be drafted only in dire emergencies or certain special circumstances; the new policy does not change that.

But before last Saturday, regulations allowed boards to draft men after 26 if they had passed that borderline while involved in administrative process delays within the Selective Service System.

Saturday's executive order eliminated that hot-pursuit clause. Now a man may be drafted after 26 only if the notice of induction itself was issued before his 26th birthday.

million in turnback as compared to $110,000 in turnback when he became director. He said the legislature, through league lobbying efforts, had passed a bill saying cities were not liable for tort.

"I don't know what their complaints are, and I don't know where we have fallen down," he said.

The nepotism charge apparently refers to Zimmerman's son, who is employed by the league as an administrative assistant.

Meadows said most of the things mentioned in the report were discussed at the Little Rock meeting, "but it's a preliminary thing and we have a lot of comments to offer on it."

Meadows said the report "sounds like an ultimatum and we didn't intend it like that." He said some of those at the meeting felt more strongly about some issues than others did.

"I suspect that position paper will look a whole lot different once it is actually firmed up," Meadows said, adding that any statement in the report probably was not unanimous.

He said he was not thinking so much about withdrawing from the league. "I think (the final report) should be offered to the Executive Committee as a list of suggestions because seven or eight people cannot dictate the policy of the league, but if there is some dissent, it should finally have an effect in the over-all policy of the league."

by the White House, would boost the present $64 minimum payment by 5 per cent to $67.20.

The Senate panel, which called another closed session today, has a lot more work to be done on the Social Security bill before it is ready for Senate debate.

Chairman Russell B. Long, D-La., told reporters he is hopeful his committee can complete work on the measure by Oct. 9 — a week before adjournment is expected.

However, the bill will raise so many complex issues that it's expected to take several days after that for the panel to write its report.

This led Sen. Fred R. Harris, D-Okla., and other members to say they do not see how it will be possible to debate the bill until after the elections.

This is especially true, they said, because it now appears the bill will be the vehicle for action on Nixon's welfare reform proposal — the family assistance plan.

The House passed Social Security and welfare reform as separate bills.

But Long and other Finance members said whatever the committee does on welfare will be in the form of an amendment to the Social Security measure.

The increases in Social Security payments voted by the Senate panel would increase costs and benefits by $3.7 billion over the House version.

WEDDING VOWS REPEATED

Mrs. Alice Elizabeth Yocom and Dr. Edward Frank Pesek were united in matrimony in a double ring ceremony on September 18 in Bay City, Texas. The vows were exchanged in Holy Cross Catholic Church, with the Reverend C. J. Martin officiating. Dr. Pesek is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Pesek of Wharton. Yellow and white mums were used to decorate the altar of the church. Organist, Mrs. Jess Fallis accompanied Mrs. B. E. Simons, Jr. as she sang "Hand In Hand" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Given in marriage by her son, Kendall Ray Yocom, the bride wore a lovely gown of pink chiffon over organza with a veil of tulle attached to a flat matching pink bow. She carried a nosegay of pink rose buds.

Serving the bride as Matron-of-honor was her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Kendall R. Yocom. Her gown was of yellow chiffon over organza and she carried a bouquet of yellow daisies.

Frank J. Pesek stood as his son's best man, and Bill Cook and Leroy Muzny were the ushers. Gary and Greg Simons served as candlelighters. Dr. and Mrs. Cris Voelker acted as witnesses.

The groom's mother chose a rose suit-effect dress with beige accessories and she wore a white corsage.

The reception following the ceremony, was held in the church cafeteria. Arrangements of daisies and greenery were used as decoration. The bride's cake was a beautiful confection of three tiers, topped with the traditional miniature bride and groom under a circlet of white lace. Serving in the house party were Mrs. T. J. Chanik, Leroy Muzny, W. E. Cook, Dena Sterling, and Joey Silva.

For her wedding trip to Galveston the bride added a sleeveless coat of silk shantung over her wedding dress.

Mrs. Pesek is a graduate of Bossier City, La. schools and a former resident of Hope. Dr. Pesek is a graduate of Wharton High School, the University of Saint Thomas and Baylor College of Medicine. He took his internship and residency at John Peter Smith Hospital in Ft. Worth.

Drunk driving toll

RENO, Nev. (UPI)—More than half the fatal accidents that accounted for more than 56,000 highway deaths last year involved drinking drivers—or 4 per cent of all motorists, according to a national insurance executive.

Louis W. Niggeman, president of Fireman's Fund American Insurance Companies, said more than 90 per cent of all traffic casualties in 1969 were in accidents involving known driver violations and that 6 per cent of the drivers caused half of the accidents. More than half the accidents that resulted in fatalities were caused by motorists under the influence of alcohol, he said.

Educational demand

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—The demand for college training in the field of computer sciences, systems analysis, and data processing has multiplied at a staggering rate, according to a Temple University dean.

Dr. Seymour L. Wolfbein, dean of the School of Business Administration, said college graduates from every segment of commerce and industry are seeking graduate education in computer sciences because the use of computers in business has no limit.

Television and Radio

NEW YORK (AP)—The indestructible, indomitable Robert Ironside has returned for another NBC season, solving crimes most Thursday nights. This week, however, he was nursing a junkie through withdrawal symptoms—and turning it into an interesting hour.

The police drama is consistently action-packed and attention-holding, partly because of good scripts but mostly because of the character developed by Raymond Burr as the crusty, paralyzed detective.

Burr and guest star Joseph Campanella gave virtuoso performances Thursday night in what was essentially a two-man show.

Campanella played an old friend, an engineer who invited Ironside to spend a couple of days in his remote mountain cabin. The men were snowed in and the addict, unable to replenish his drug supplies, went through torture, painfully and realistically. At one point he threatened to shoot Ironside.

The rescue party arrived in time for Ironside to nail the village pusher. At the end there was a suggestion that with Ironside's help, his friend just might be able to kick the habit.

It's a good series.

CBS's "Family Affair" is another of those heart-lugging situation comedies that currently abound. It features a parent-without-a-partner—an uncle in this case—and relies heavily on the charm of two child performers who over the past four years don't seem to have outgrown their attractiveness.

The Thursday night episode found the cast regulars—Sebastian Cabot, Brian Keith, Anissa Jones and Johnny Whitaker—relegated to minor roles while the story was carried by guest performers.

Uncle Bill, his man French and the children play host to a pretty young Chinese girl from Hong Kong, brought to New York to marry a much older Chinese-American, owner of a restaurant.

The Americanization of Ming Lee was pretty quick—in no time she had fallen for a Chinese-American of her own age. Naturally, true romance won without any trouble as it al-

GENERALIZATIONS WIDEN GENERATION GAP

Dear Helen:

It really tickles me to hear the younger "freaked out" generation saying "My old man was too busy to spend any time with me, and too hung up on making bread so that he could give me things I didn't want in the first place, etc. etc."

These far out cats are convinced they will be different with THEIR children. So they'll raise 'em in communes with no conveniences, no money except welfare checks, and spend so much time with them the kids will be sick of "old lazy vegetable-type Mom and Pop" before they're half grown.

I can foresee these children fleeing the nest at a tender age, simply to prove to daddy-o that there is a great big world out there to be conquered—one that HE tossed away as "materialistic." Thus the pendulum swings. Kids raised in opulence reject it. Kids raised in poverty reject it, and try again for opulence.

And what's all this about spending time with the youngster? Who had time to sit with a kid or take him camping 40 years ago? The kids had no time then either, for they went to work early or starved. They weren't spoiled and idle, with ways does in situation comedy. "Family Affair" is so popular that CBS will use its characters next week to help another series, "To Rome, With Love," which has been moved to a new time period.

The gimmick is that the "Family Affair" children will visit the "To Rome" family. When "Petticoat Junction" was going strong, the device was used to help "Green Acres" as it started.

nothing better to think about than "what a mess the world is." If moderns had the responsibilities given to young people during the depression years, they wouldn't be such crybaby do-nothings.

Education is fine, but why is it, Helen, that the majority of these kids and young adults have college backgrounds, yet behave like savages with their killings, massacres, bombings, riots?

We've all felt pressures, but somehow the older generation finds strength to keep going regardless of obstacles. You'd expect the old ones to throw in the towel, with so little encouragement from the young. —THE THINKER

P.S. There were kids going off to war back then too, but they didn't howl!

Dear Thinker:

Your letter is a prime example of how generalizations distort. You say "the majority of kids behave like savages" or are "crybaby do-nothings." You see them as "freak-outs" who would spend their lives on welfare. Not so! A small percentage, yes, but not the majority!

For heaven's sake, wrench your eyes from the headlines long enough to see that most young people are no better or no worse than were those of your generation—but they may have higher ideals and fewer false values.

True, their life styles will change, though not by the great pendulum sweep you predict. And not for the worse! There are enough practical-minded traditionalists among them to keep the economy going, and enough idealists to (hopefully) keep it more honest.

Hang in there a few years longer, "Thinker," and maybe you'll agree with me. —H.

Dear Helen:

"For Large Families" (who said she raised children to serve God and Country) sounds more like a farmer discussing his crops than a loving mother. If this poor soul wants to raise her children for cannon fodder—because the world will be so overrun with people they'll have to kill each other off—the pleasure is all hers. I'll raise my SMALL family to love God and their fellow man. —MOTHER

$750,000 Award Is Upheld

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A $750,000 damage award to actress Shirley MacLaine from 20th Century-Fox has been upheld by the California Supreme Court.

The court ruled 6-1 Wednesday that Los Angeles Superior Court Judge Ernest Zack acted properly in granting the amount in a summary judgment.

Miss MacLaine had sued the studio because it failed to make a movie musical called "Bloomer Girl" for which she had a contract to star guaranteeing her a minimum of $750,000 pay over 14 weeks.

Game Tonight Important to Both Teams

Tonight brings the Malvern Leopards to Hammons Stadium for a 7:30 p.m. kickoff in a game which is important to both teams.

The Hope Bobcats stopped Malvern last year, 20-6, and spoiled the Leopard homecoming. This is a good base for a season of revenge on the Bobcats, and Malvern may have the club to do it.

Hope is coming off of a hard earned 14-6 victory over Fairview, while Malvern was embarrassed by Little Rock Catholic, 50-7. It will probably be about even, though the Bobcats are a slight home field favorite.

Knowing that this game could be a big boost for the winner, will have both teams mentally and physically prepared. Malvern is always a tough opponent for Hope, and this time around is no exception.

In a game such as this, you either have to give a choice of an offensive or defensive battle, and this time I predict an 8-7 victory for the Bobcats.

Morton Leads Freshmen to Victory

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP) — Tackled Dickey Morton of Dallas Tech, rushed for 171 yards and scored one touchdown to lead the Arkansas Shoats to a 20-7 victory over the Southern Mustangs here Thursday night.

Morton's touchdown came on a 51-yard run. He carried the ball 21 times.

The short Arkansas defense intercepted three passes off headed Colt quarterback Gray Ortiz and recovered two fumbles.

Morton's scoring run, a 22-yard field goal by Butch Davis and a five-yard keeper by quarterback Pete Tolley gave Arkansas a 17-7 halftime lead. The Shoats' other touchdowns came on a 14-yard plunge by Wayne Adams and a 14-yard burst by Rick Taylor.

Tommy Smith Thomas plunged for a 14-yard touchdown and a 14-yard burst by Rick Taylor.

Texas, Ohio Picked to Win Easily

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Royal Fears Dummit.

That could be the headline for the Texas-UCLA clash as the Longhorns go after their 23rd straight victory in one of college football's leading games Saturday.

Darrell Royal, coach of Texas' defending national champions, says he is concerned about Dennis Dummit, the UCLA quarterback.

"He's a fine passer," Royal commented. "And he's throwing to somebody who can do something with it when he gets it."

"It's ridiculous that we are three-touchdown favorites," added the Texas coach, whose Longhorns now boast the current longest winning collegiate streak after Colorado shattered Penn State's string last week.

The Longhorns, ranked No. 2 to Ohio State in this week's Associated Press poll, tangle with the 13th-ranked Bruins at Austin, Tex.

The top-ranked Buckeyes are at home against the Duke Blue Devils in Columbus, Ohio, and Woody Hayes, the Ohio State mentor, figures his running game will offset any threat from Duke's passer, Leo Hart.

The national television game on ABC pits seventh-ranked Mississippi and Archie Manning against 17th-ranked Alabama and Scott Hunter in a night game at Jackson, Miss.

Other leading contests include Purdue at No. 3 Stanford, No. 4 Notre Dame at Michigan State, Oregon State at No. 5 Southern California, No. 6 Nebraska at Minnesota, No. 8 Colorado at Kansas State, Texas A&M at No. 9 Michigan and Colorado State at No. 10 Air Force.

The weekend program opens with two games tonight, Maryland at Miami (Fla.), and Tulane at Cincinnati.

Ole Miss and its superstar, Manning, are out to turn the tables on Alabama, which pulled out a 33-32 victory last year as G Hunter hit on 22 of 29 passes for 300 yards and scored the winning touchdown. Manning gained 540 yards in total offense in the game.

John Vaught, coach of the favored Rebels, looks for "Alabama to be as tough a game as we'll have all year."

Duke's Hart and his favorite receiver, Wes Chesson, may prove a threat to Ohio State.

"Our major concern is not talent, it's depth," said Tom Harp, the Duke coach. "If we stay healthy not even Ohio State will embarrass us."

Quarterback Lynn Dickey, who didn't play last week because of a bruised rib, is back for Kansas State and if he is up to par the Wildcats may prove a stubborn foe for Colorado.

Other top contests include Arkansas at Texas Christian, Penn State at Wisconsin, Auburn at Kentucky, Clemson at Georgia Tech, Army at Tennessee, West Virginia at Indiana, North Carolina at Vanderbilt, Missouri at Oklahoma State, and Baylor at LSU.

In World War I, the adult American male stood 67.7 inches tall and weighed 142 pounds. During World War II, he was 68.4 inches tall and weighed 155 pounds, and today's young men are some 1.3 inches taller and 10 pounds heavier than were their fathers at the same age.

Alex Johnson Has the AL Bat Crown

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

California's Alex Johnson has exchanged his sometimes-tilted halo for a crown—the American League batting championship.

The angriest Angel poked two early hits before sitting out the last eight innings of California's 5-4 season-closing victory over the Chicago White Sox Thursday night and nipped three-time tiddler Carl Yastrzemski of Boston by a whisker in the league's closest batting race in 17 years.

Johnson, removed from the game after beating out an infield tap in the fifth inning for his second hit in three at-bats, finished his first AL season with a .3289 average. Yastrzemski went 1-for-4 in the Red Sox' final game Wednesday night for a .3286 windup.

Acquired from Cincinnati last winter in an inter-league deal, the reticent, 27-year-old outfielder feuded with sports writers and fought with teammates on the way to his dramatic conquest. But when he trotted off the field after his decision scratch single, the press box denizens joined an Anaheim crowd of 5,689 in a long, standing ovation.

In other regular season finales, Baltimore shaded Washington 3-2 for a club-record winning streak of 11 games; Minnesota blanked Kansas City 4-0; Detroit squeezed past Cleveland 1-0 and Oakland beat Milwaukee 5-4.

In the National League, Cincinnati trimmed Atlanta 4-1; Houston edged San Francisco 5-4; the Chicago Cubs downed the New York Mets 4-1; Philadelphia tripped Montreal 2-1 in 10 innings; Pittsburgh defeated St. Louis 9-5 and Los Angeles beat San Diego 7-4.

Johnson, batting leadoff for the Angels in his 11th-hour bid to overtake Yastrzemski, bounced out in the first inning, lined a single to right in the third and then outlegged a high bouncer to third in the fifth for his 203rd hit of the year. With the title secured, he was immediately replaced by pinch-runner Jay Johnstone.

"Somebody told me before the game that it would take three hits to win," the usually tight-lipped veteran said. "So I was caught by surprise when they put Jay in to run for me. But when I saw him come out of the dugout, I figured I must be on top."

Johnson, who failed to hit safely in only 34 of the 157 games in which he appeared, said the silver bat he'll receive, emblematic of the hitting crown, "will be an excellent addition to my trophy case. I think I'll put it on top of the case and let it do my talking."

The Angels blew a 3-0 lead with two out in the ninth when Walt Williams slammed a three-run homer, then fell behind on Bill Melton's 33rd home run in the 13th before rallying for two runs in the bottom half to nail their fifth straight victory.

Ninth inning singles by Merv Rettenmund, Chico Salmon and Dave Johnson snapped a 2-2 tie at Baltimore, giving the Orioles their 108th victory of the season—and 40th by a one-run margin. It was the Senators' 14th consecutive setback.

Baltimore's Frank Robinson hit his 475th career homer, tying Stan Musial for 12th place on the all-time list. It was his 25th of the year.

Southpaw Jim Kaat hit a two-run homer and teamed with relievers Stan Williams and Ron Perranoski on a three-hitter for the Twins. Tony Oliva cracked a double and triple for Minnesota to finish third in the batting race at .325.

Detroit's John Hiller stymied the Indians on two hits and equaled the AL record with seven consecutive strikeouts. Ike Brown's first inning sacrifice fly delivered the game's lone run.

Reggie Jackson's two-run double in the ninth carried the A's past Milwaukee after teammate Bob Brooks clouted a two-run homer in the eighth.

Eleven Years Since TCU Beat Porkers

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Eleven years ago Texas Christian hung a 12-7 albatross around the Arkansas Razorbacks and walked to the Southwest Conference football championship. TCU hasn't touched the Ozark bullies since.

The two teams meet for the 47th time Saturday night in Fort Worth and Arkansas is again the favorite. There are some who believe the Razorbacks will find it hard to take the purple seriously, but TCU quarterback Steve Judy thinks otherwise.

"I have a lot of respect for Arkansas coach Frank Broyles and I think Arkansas will be just as fired up as we are," says Judy. "He can do a tremendous job of getting his team up for a game. I think he'll have them up this year, because we've been playing pretty well."

The Arkansas-TCU clash is the only SWC game on the menu that has Texas meeting California teams in three inter-sectional games.

UCLA meets defending national champion Texas in Austin, California is at Rice, California at Santa Barbara is at Texas Tech, SMU is at Northwestern, Texas A&M is at Michigan, and Baylor is at LSU in non-league affairs.

The Horned Frog-Razorback game is a traditional lever toward the SWC championship with the winner or co-champion coming out of the game eight times in the last 15 years. A crowd of 40,000 is expected in Among Carter Stadium for the 7:30 p.m. kickoff. Arkansas has won two straight after an opening loss to Stanford while TCU is 1-1-1. Arkansas quarterback Bill Montgomery has hit 74 per cent of his passes and should hook up in an aerial duel with Judy. The Razorbacks lead the All-time series 24-20-2.

The No. 2 ranked Longhorns face a stiff test in unbeaten UCLA and Texas coach Darrell Royal says it's "ridiculous" that the Longhorns are three-touchdown favorites.

"It will be a good football game," he says, "a good test for us and a good test for them."

A crowd of about 62,000 is expected in Jones Stadium for the 4 p.m. CDT kickoff.

Royal says he is worried about UCLA quarterback Dennis Dummit.

"He's a fine passer...and he's throwing to somebody who can do something with it when he gets it...They have good athletes who can come through and pull out some big plays."

Texas will seek its 23rd consecutive victory which would break the all-time SWC mark it now shares with the Arkansas teams of 1963-65.

The young Texas Aggies continue their education against some of the nation's finest football machines with a 1:30 p.m. CDT meeting with the Michigan Wolverines in Ann Arbor before some 71,000 fans. The Aggies have beaten Wichita State and Louisiana State and lost big to Ohio State. Michigan has whipped Arizona and Washington.

"I think they showed by the LSU game that they are capable of the big game," says Michigan coach Bo Schmebeckler. "They'll bring the game to you if they have the chance."

A&M is paced by sophomore quarterback Lex James who has completed 45 of 84 passes for 752 yards and four touchdowns. He solved Ohio State's secondary for 271 yards. Michigan, a solid three-touchdown pick, play tough defense and have a rugged defense. A&M has a 2-5 record against Big Ten teams.

Northwestern and Southern Methodist meet for the first time at 1:30 p.m. in Evanston, Ill. SMU is 3-10 against the Big Ten. Gary Hammond has given the Mustangs potency on the ground to mix with Chuck Hixson's strong passing.

Coach Hayden Fry is fearful of the Wildcats who have lost to Notre Dame and UCLA.

"It seems everytime we schedule a Big Ten team they're on their way toward an outstanding season," Fry says. "Northwestern has lost two games to fine football teams. They played Notre Dame tough and UCLA had to win with a desperation pass. Northwestern is big and strong."

Baylor takes a 1-2 record into the Tiger pit at Baton Rouge, La., in a 7:30 p.m. CDT game

Hog Coach Respects TCU's Judy

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles remembers TCU quarterback Steve Judy all too well.

"He scrambles just like Archie Manning (of Mississippi)," Broyles said. "Judy completed 22 passes for 240 yards against us last year."

Arkansas and TCU open Southwest Conference play at Fort Worth Saturday with the Razorbacks two-touchdown favorites to win their 12th straight from the Horned Frogs.

Despite Judy's performance, Arkansas scored a 24-6 victory over TCU last year. Three fumbles by Marty Whelan ruined the Frogs.

"At the end of one quarter, they had 160 yards and we had 25 yards running and none passing," Broyles said. "Steve Judy just took the ball and ran and passed us ragged."

In three games this year, Judy has completed 36 of 70 passes for 413 yards. Running back Bobby Davis, a 200-pound junior, has averaged six yards per carry while rushing for 335 yards.

TCU opened with a 31-7 victory over the University of Texas at Arlington, lost to Purdue 15-0 and tied Wisconsin 14-14.

"They played those exhibitions to fill their coffers," Broyles said. "Now that those games are out of the way, they're ready to go."

Arkansas split end Chuck Dicus was instrumental in last year's victory, grabbing two touchdown passes — one a 73-yarder on a third and one situation.

Broyles is impressed with TCU's revamped secondary.

"They've got a free safety (Hodges Mitchell) who looks like the best thing to come into this league in a long time," Broyles said. "They've got four defensive backs with 4.6 speed or better. You can tell it in the films. Nobody is throwing at them."

"Their defense is much better," Broyles said. "It's young but they've got size, speed, and ability. They're lining up in that 5-2 and daring you to block them."

TCU Coach Fred Taylor has expressed disappointment in his Frogs' kicking game and he may make some changes.

Arkansas' defense took much improved last week in a 49-7 victory over Tulsa, but defensive tackle Roger Harnish is out for the season and his replacement, John Turner, twisted his knee earlier this week. Rick Kersey, who has been hobbled much of the fall by an injury, will start if Turner is unavailable.

More than 40,000 persons are expected for the 7:30 p.m. kickoff.

before the usual sellout crowd of 65,000. LSU is a three-touchdown favorite. The running of Matthew Williams and the solid defensive work of David Jones have been Baylor bright spots.

California bounced back from a 56-13 rout at the hands of Texas to mangle Indiana 61-14 and should provide a stiff test for Rice which is 1-1 in the 7:30 p.m. game in Houston. Rice ranks 11th nationally in total defense headed by guard Roger Roitsch and linebacker Dale Grounds. Rice is 3-6-2 against the Pacific Eight and California is 1-7 against the SWC.

Texas Tech (2-1) hosts California at Santa Barbara, which is 0-3 in a 7:30 p.m. game at Jones Stadium.

Tech coach Jim Carlen says "We don't know an awful lot about the Gauchos. However, we do know they use a lot of junior college transfers who usually mature about the middle of the season."

Could Be Upset Week in Pro Play

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — This could be the week for upsets in the National Football League when the ranks of the unbeaten could be reduced to the Los Angeles Rams, Detroit Lions, Minnesota Vikings and possibly the San Francisco 49ers.

It's a long weekend with two Saturday night games, 10 Sunday afternoon and the usual Monday night television feature. The Hand picker escaped with 8-4-1 last week to make it 15-10-1 for the year but form still is unsettled in the new merged league.

Here's the way it looks from this foggy perch.

Saturday night

Cleveland 23, Pittsburgh 10— Browns' air attack has to be hurting without Bill Nelsen but they have the big horses to do the job on the ground in Leroy Kelly and Bo Scott. Terry Bradshaw coming off a mild concussion and two losing games.

Miami 24, Oakland 21— Raiders are favored despite two tough struggles with Dolphins last year. Bob Griese hit with the big third down plays against Houston. Oakland defense has sagged against running game and yielded four scores on passes. Raiders still haven't found selves.

Sunday

Los Angeles 20, San Diego 10— A little blood may flow in this one between Southern California rivals. Rams are hurting for running backs and start Willie Ellison and Pat Curran. Chargers should get lift with return of Gene Foster but Rams defense should keep things under control.

Minnesota 30, Green Bay 14— Packers haven't beaten Vikings since 1967 and this isn't the time. With Bart Starr hurting it will be up to Don Horn to face the Purple Gang. Lots of luck.

St. Louis 28, Dallas 27— Maybe it's a mirage caused by MacArthur Lane's 146 yards against Washington but we're picking an upset win for the Cards. The Cowboys may blow somebody off the field one of these Sundays when they put it all together. Still trouble in Cowboy country.

San Francisco 24, Atlanta 21— Scared of this one but going along with John Brodie on a hot streak. That Dutchman just may have found the combo in Atlanta, which finds itself in the unfamiliar role of favorite.

Kansas City 30, Denver 17— Chiefs looked like the Super Bowl champs with all-out effort against Colts. Although Broncos are 2-0 for the season they have beaten Kansas City only once in 20 league starts and that was way back in 1964, and are still juggling quarterbacks.

Baltimore 21, Boston 17— This could be the place for an upset victory by the Pats because the Colts took a beating from Chiefs and must go without John Unitas. Unless Colts are demoralized Earl Morrall should pull them.

New York Jets 27, Buffalo 7— Jets are getting sharper and Bills are dragging with battered defense and stalled offense. Maybe Dennis Shaw can light a fire but you have to go with Joe Namath, Matt Snell and Emerson Boozer.

Houston 17, Cincinnati 14— Both won their openers and lost last week. Give the Oilers an edge on a solid quarterback and better defense against a team still looking for a successor to injured Greg Cook.

New York Giants 27, New Orleans 21— Some one of these days the giants are going to hold up in the second half. This should be the day. The Saints have scored only three points in two games while giving up 40. Time for a big day from Fran Tarkenton.

Washington 24, Philadelphia 14— Sonny Jurgensen had only one TD pass in two games and that's way below average. Bombs away with the young Philadelphia secondary as the target.

Monday night

Detroit 20, Chicago 7— Lions are loaded, especially for Bears, in battle of two unbeaten teams in Eastern Conference. Mel Farr ready to do battle with Gale Sayers before home fans in Tiger Stadium. If Cecil Turner runs one kickoff back for a TD this time he must be Superman.

Thirty-five countries adopted nickel and various nickel alloys for 70 new coins during 1969.

2 Top-ranked Teams Are Victorious

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two of the state's top-ranked high school football teams were victorious Thursday night.

Fourth-ranked Little Rock Catholic blasted Benton 42-21 as fullback Pat Campbell scored three times.

Split end Doug Martin equaled Campbell's performance as fifth-ranked Little Rock Hall whipped Jacksonville 35-22.

Campbell scored on runs of 40, three and 53 yards as the Rockets handed the Panthers their second defeat of the season. Quarterback Jimmy Doolittle plunged one yard for a touchdown and threw a 35-yard scoring pass to Stan Blocklock.

Benton quarterback Johnny Gregory scored on a 44-yard run and threw a 59-yard touchdown pass to tight end Donald Fulcher.

Martin caught scoring passes of 13 and 53 yards from James Flynn and a 10-yard flip from Walter Rowan. Alan Thompson and Doug Wood scored once each on short runs.

Preston Ashley threw two touchdown passes for Jacksonville, a 63-yarder to Henry Jernigan and a 10-yarder to Winston Ford.

Chicago Cubs Are Now a Bit Richer

Associated Press Sports Writer
The Chicago Cubs are a little bit richer today thanks to Ferguson Jenkins and the Philadelphia Phillies got a lift from Oscar Gamble to escape the embarrassment of the basement as the National League regular season came to a close.

Jenkins, the Cubs' hard-throwing right-hander, mowed down the New York Mets Thursday night on a two-hitter, nailing down second place in the East by a game over the defending world champions with a 4-1 victory.

The second place finish is worth approximately $1,300 per man while third is worth $400. Jenkins, 22-6, a 20-game winner for four consecutive seasons, held the Mets hitless for six innings before Ken Singleton doubled opening the seventh. Singleton also doubled in the ninth.

The Cubs got a two-run single from Randy Hundley and Joe Pepitone's 26th homer, a two-run shot, in support of Jenkins, who struck out eight and walked two.

A crowd of 48,314 packed Shea Stadium, giving the Mets a home attendance mark of 2,697,479, the second best in major league history.

Gamble, the Phils center fielder, ripped a two-out, run-scoring single in the 10th inning, giving Philadelphia a 2-1 victory over Montreal before 31,882 in the final game ever to be played at Connie Mack Stadium.

The triumph lifted the Phils into fifth place, one-half game ahead of the Expos, who finished last.

Philadelphia moves into a new park next season. The 61-year-old stadium opened on April 12, 1909.

In other NL games, Cincinnati whipped Atlanta 4-1, Houston edged San Francisco 5-4, Pittsburgh drowned St. Louis 9-5 and Los Angeles beat San Diego 7-4.

In the American League, Detroit nipped Cleveland 1-0, Minnesota blanked Kansas City

4-0. Baltimore nudged Washington 3-2, Oakland stopped Milwaukee 5-4 and California topped Chicago 5-4 in 13 innings, Boston and New York ended their schedule Wednesday.

Bobby Tolan knocked in one run with a double and Tommy Helms slammed a two-run double in the Reds triumph. Hank Aaron slugged his 38th homer for the Braves.

Houston won its seventh straight on Bob Watson's ninth inning, run-scoring single. The defeat pushed San Francisco into third place in the West behind runnerup Los Angeles.

Richie Hebner and Jerry May each drove in four runs in the Pirates rout. Hebner clouted a single and double while May cracked a three-run homer and sacrifice fly.

Willie Crawford drilled a run-scoring single, triggering a three-run Los Angeles sixth inning as the Dodgers clinched second place in the West. Nate Colbert slammed a two-run homer, his 38th, for the Padres.

Thinks Agase Is Supreme Quarterback

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Northwestern Coach Alex Agase is rapidly becoming the supreme expert in this the year of the quarterback.

Agase's winless Northwestern Wildcats opened the season against Notre Dame and Joe Thiesmann and then faced UCLA and Dennis Dummit.

This Saturday's quarterback foe is Chuck Hixson of Southern Methodist who already holds the NCAA career record for pass completions and is 80 attempts and 1,015 yards shy of two other national marks.

Hixson, however, is not the only offensive threat of the Mustangs who defeated New Mexico State last week following losses to Oklahoma and Tennessee.

Tailback Gary Hammond, who scored four touchdowns in the first quarter last week, has rushed for 237 yards in 56 carries this season for a 4.1 average. He also has caught 12 passes for 149 yards.

Hammond also is kept busy on the punting and kickoff return teams and averages six yards every time he touches the ball.

"Hixson is everything they say he is and more," says Agase. "He can also run from out of the pocket and throws better passes while falling on his back than many passers can throw forward.

"SMU hits you with three-and-five-man pass patterns and Hixson is one of the best at picking out secondary receivers," added Agase. "It's a high-geared offense team and when you can score you can win."

Northwestern dropped its opener 35-14 to Notre Dame and came within minutes of upsetting UCLA last Saturday but instead returned from the West Coast with a 12-7 defeat.

"We have to learn how to win," said Agase, "and this Saturday is as good a time as any to start."

Produces Big Melon

LARRY BYERS

Larry Byers, Hope High School senior and the son of Mr. and Mrs. E.H. Byers, produced a 102-pound Cobb Gem watermelon this summer.

For the second year, he raised melons as a FFA project. And this year's largest melon outweighed last year's top one by 9 pounds.

He was plagued with problems this summer and had to replant because rust hit his vines. He managed to save one vine after he found a fairly effective rust spray. The summer rains almost caused a washout.

"I entered the Chamber of Commerce contest this year, and I plan to again next year if I can," the determined grower stated.

Larry used four acres of his dad's land to grow Sudan grass for feed for his cattle, another of his Future Farmer projects.

He will probably enter Southern State College next fall to major in agriculture.

The first cog railroad in the world was built to the summit of Mt. Washington. N.H. The World Almanac recalls that the first public demonstration was given on Aug. 29, 1866. The cog railway was completed in July, 1869, at a cost of $139,500.

Washington Elm
The Washington elm stood near the Senate wing of the U.S. Capitol until 1948. The first president is said to have stood under it repeatedly as a favorite spot to watch the construction of the Capitol.

Battle on for Clothing for Poor Students

By G. C. THELEN JR.
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration is locked in battle with an organization of welfare mothers over a new regulation limiting federal education aid to clothe poor children.

The militant National Welfare Rights Organization — NWRO — has appealed directly to Welfare Secretary Elliot L. Richardson for more clothing aid. He promised to answer early next week.

At issue is a Sept. 15 Office of Education directive freezing at a last year's level — three-tenths of one per cent of the total — clothing allowances from the $1.5 billion elementary school aid fund.

Most of the 16,500 school districts receiving aid for disadvantaged school children do not use any of the so-called Title I money for clothing programs.

The new order, in effect, prohibits them from starting.

The freeze comes at a time when local NWRO chapters are pressing Title I districts without clothing provisions to include them.

Congress authorized the use of Title I money to buy clothing for poor children "where necessary."

Terrel H. Bell, acting commissioner of education took note of the new clothing demands in the Sept. 15 order, saying, "In a number of states project applications are being received involving greatly increased expenditure of Title I funds for clothing, which if approved, would jeopardize the basic nature of the Title I program. Title I is an education, not a welfare program."

George A. Wiley, NWRO executive director argues, however, "that adequate school clothing is an educational need of the highest priority."

"Children cannot learn if they are not in school," he said. "Without adequate shoes and clothing, many poor kids will not go to school. Other children in ragged clothing will be defeated by the self-image that is radiated in the faces of their more affluent classmates."

Richardson said in an interview he intends to allow districts without clothing programs to begin. He would not say, however, whether the spending ceiling will be lifted.

The United States first recognized the Soviet Union during the administration of President Franklin D. Roosevelt—Nov. 16, 1933.

Varied Diet Over World Provides Health Clues

By LAWRENCE E. LAMB, M.D.

In many parts of the world it is usual for people in their 70s and 80s to be physically vigorous. They have little or no evidence of what we call atherosclerosis—the fatty deposits in the arteries that cause senility, heart disease and strokes.

During World War II, the islanders of Okinawa were studied and it was rare even for men of 80 to have atherosclerosis deposits in their arteries. The elder islanders were physically vigorous, participating in all ways in the activities of the community.

Heart specialists think their diet and physical activity was the key. Habitually they ate a low-fat diet with lots of fish and little meat. They ate lots of vegetables, sweet potatoes, soy beans and rice. They didn't smoke.

Early studies of the people of China also failed to show any significant evidence of fatty deposits in the arteries of the elderly. Throughout much of Asia, the rice-eating people who did not have modern abundance were essentially free of the diseases of civilization—mostly related to atherosclerosis affecting the heart, brain, kidney and other parts of the body.

Similar observations were made in Africa. In autopsy studies of 6,500 Bantu not a single example of fatty deposits in the arteries of the heart was noted. Some of the best tribal dancers were vigorous in their 70s.

Yet absence of civilization alone doesn't guarantee you will escape our diseases. In northern Kenya, a nomadic tribe of camel herders, known as the Bendilles, have a high rate of heart disease, caused by accumulated fatty deposits in the arteries. They are vigorous people, far removed from the stresses of civilization. One explanation may be what they eat. Their diet, like that of their urbanized brother, contains 35 to 40 per cent fat, mostly of animal origin.

Some islanders with high rates of heart disease and fatty deposits in their arteries are thought to have the problem because coconuts are their major food source and coconut oil has the same undesirable effects as animal fat.

We have learned a lot about how to prevent disease and maintain good health by observing the differences in health problems in the world. The evidence points to the fact that how you live not only determines how you die, but how vigorous and healthy you are, particularly in later years.

In some Stayman variations, the two-club response guarantees at least eight points. In JACOBY MODERN, it merely guarantees that responder has 13 cards, including a major suit of some sort or other. Responder also guarantees that he will know what to do next.

North doesn't like no-trump at all and is justified in his dislike. South would probably be two down at that contract.

He prefers two spades and in some Stayman forms he would bid two spades. He wouldn't quite make it, but he would come close. He could complain about the bad luck of the trump break and the misplacement of the ace of clubs.

CHRISTIANITY, or COMMUNISM... Which side are YOU on?
There is a distinct line, "THE IRON CURTAIN," separating the two. Communism is an atheistic, materialistic, scientific, political conspiracy, aligned against God. Communism says, "DOWN WITH THE CROSS!" It declares Man is state-owned property. Christianity, the Bible and God are on one side. The hammer, sickle and Communism on the other. If you are a Communist, you are Godless. If you love God, you are not a communist. Freedom and a sense of human worth are the Bible's gift to mankind. The hammer blows will falter! The sickle's edge will grow dull! The Bible and the church will endure. WHICH SIDE ARE YOU ON?

The clean, tailored design of Buick's new Centurion series is exemplified in the hardtop coupe with its distinctive, formal roof and sculptured accent line down the side. The luxurious Centurion series comes in a four-door hardtop and convertible, in addition to the hardtop coupe. Like all models in Buick's regular line, the Centurion features curved glass windows that are nearly flush with the outer body surface and cantilever roof styling. The Centurion is powered by Buick's 455 cubic inch engine. Variable ratio power steering and power brakes with front discs are standard on the Centurion.

Buick's Riviera Sport Coupe For 1971

The dramatic aerodynamic styling of Buick's Riviera sport coupe for 1971 is illustrated in this view of its tapered rear design with its unique window treatment. The Riviera has a completely new body with larger interior dimensions and 35 per cent more trunk space. It is powered by a 455 cubic inch engine with nickel plated exhaust valves for greater durability. Max Trac, a computerized drive control system which improves directional stability on slippery roads, is introduced as an option on the Riviera.

Porks, State Are Picked for Victory

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — TCU has been an early casualty in the Southwest Conference football race for each of the last 10 years.
And, the culprit has been Arkansas.
Since 1959, the pattern has been the same.
Arkansas and TCU would open Southwest Conference play with the Horned Frogs on the short end of the score and looking uphill. Only once did they make the long climb ... in 1959, they rebounded from a 3-0 loss to the Razorbacks to tie Arkansas and Texas for a share of the title.

The Razorbacks and the Frogs will do it again Saturday night at Fort Worth, Tex., with Arkansas given a two-touchdown edge by the oddsmakers.
The Frogs still have quarterback Steve Judy, who drove Arkansas batty last year while completing 22 passes for 240 yards. TCU's offense also features Bobby Davis, a 200-pound junior, who has rushed for 335 yards in three games.
TCU opened its season with a 31-7 victory over the University of Texas at Arlington, lost to Purdue 15-0 and tied Wisconsin 14-14.

Arkansas rebounded from a 34-28 loss to Stanford with a 23-7 victory over Oklahoma State and a 49-7 decision over Tulsa.
TCU must stop Arkansas quarterback Bill Montgomery, who has completed more than 70 per cent of his passes in the last two games and run the triple option with devastating effectiveness.

Arkansas' defense will be slightly patched up with defensive tackle Roger Harnish out for the season and the condition of his replacement, John Turner, still a question mark.
Somehow, Arkansas is always ready for TCU.

ARKANSAS 24, TCU 14.
Arkansas State University will bring the nation's No. 1 college division team to Little Rock to meet The Citadel.

While the Indians were savoring a hard-earned 12-3 victory over Southeast Louisiana last week, The Citadel was breaking into the victory column with a 31-0 decision over East Carolina.

The Citadel ruined ASU's Little Rock debut in 1967, and the Indians aren't about to forget. Besides, they like that No. 1 ranking.

ASU 21, CITADEL 10.
Arkansas Tech, preseason favorite in the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference, takes on Henderson, last year's champion, Saturday at Russellville.

Henderson no longer has Tommy Hart at quarterback and the Wonder Boys have designs on the title.

TECH 21, HENDERSON 14.
Last week's percentage was .857.

Here are other predictions involving college teams in Arkansas:

Southern State 14, Harding 10.
Arkansas AM&N 21, Arkansas A&M 14.

Ouachita 10, Mississippi College 7.
NE Missouri 14, State College of Arkansas 7.

Could Be a Good Weekend for Phipps

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
This could be a memorable weekend for Mike Phipps in the National Football League.

The rookie Cleveland quarterback might start for the Browns against Pittsburgh in one of two Saturday night games that open the third week of the pro football season. Ten games are listed for Sunday and one for Monday night.

Phipps, who starred for Purdue last year, was the Browns' first-round draft pick. His chance for a starting berth came when Bill Nelsen, Cleveland's regular quarterback, suffered an injury to his right knee against San Francisco last week. Blanton Collier, Browns' coach, has indicated he will start either Phipps or Don Gault from Hofstra.

Terry Bradshaw, Pittsburgh's

Personality, Office Queen Favored

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Personality and Office Queen, both 3-year-olds, are considered the horses to beat in the two $100,000 stakes that headline Saturday's thoroughbred racing program.

Personality, winner of the Wood Memorial, Jersey Derby, Preakness and Jim Dandy, heads the probable starters in the Woodward Stakes at Belmont Park.

Office Queen, who has won seven stakes this season, will be pitted against nine other fillies and mares in the Matchmaker Stakes at Atlantic City.

Personality is slated to carry 121 pounds against a probable small field in the 1 1/4 mile of the weight-for-age Woodward.

A victory is imperative for Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs' colt if he is to remain a contender for the 3-year-old championship. In his most recent starts he has been beaten in the Travers, Governor Nicholls and Styvie Handicap.

Shuvee, a 4-year-old filly at 123 pounds, Hydrologist, a 4-year-old at 126, and two 3-year-olds, Loud and Judgable, both at 121, are expected to be other starters. Dust Commander, winner of the Kentucky Derby, and Happy Intellectual are possibilities.

Office Queen, owned by Stephen A. Calder, will carry 121 pounds in the Matchmaker at 13-16 miles. A victory would cement her claim to the 3-year-old filly title. She already has won the Jasmine, Minosa, Blackeyed Susan, Mother Goose, Cotillion and divisions of the Betsy Ross and Post-Deb.

Christiana Stable's 5-year-old mare, Obeah, will be the starting high weight under 123 pounds.

Rounding out the field is Fast Attack, Helen Jennings, Native Partner, Taken Aback, Dedicated To Sue, Watch Fob, Cold Comfort and Serene Queen.

The Matchmaker is unique in that the first three finishers, in addition to splitting up $50,000, also earn for their owners services to three outstanding stallions. This year the sires are Northern Dancer, Buckpasser and Jaipur.

rookie quarterback, suffered a mild concussion against Denver last week, but is expected to start for the Steelers in the game at Cleveland.

Oddmakers Give Reds Slight Edge

By D. BYRON YAKE
Associated Press Sports Writer
PITTSBURGH (AP) — Cincinnati and Pittsburgh begin Saturday what Roberto Clemente refers to as the "Little World Series," the best-of-5 National League playoff games.

Oddmakers give the Reds a slight edge.

Pittsburgh is host for the first two games.

Clemente, suffering from a back injury, didn't accompany the Pirates to St. Louis for the final three days of the season. But he is expected to be ready for Saturday.

Willie Stargell has been hobbling on a sore leg, but he's been doing that most of the season and should be rested enough to play.

Pitcher Bob Moose missed a turn at St. Louis due to a sore elbow. His status is uncertain.

In the opener the Pirates will go with Dock Ellis, 13-10, against the Reds' Gary Nolan, 18-7.

Luke Walker, 15-6, is expected to start Sunday in the second game against the Reds' Jim Merritt, their only 20-game winner.

Merritt had a special workout Wednesday and was pronounced fit. He had worked three innings last week after a three-week layoff due to an arm injury.

The Pirates will probably go with their usual lineup, spiced with a mixture of veterans and youth.

If Clemente plays, left-handed Al Oliver will be at first against Nolan, a right-hander; rookie Dave Cash is scheduled to start at second because of his recent hot bat, and Gene Alley will probably be at short. Richie Hebner, another lefty, will play third.

Stagell will be in left, Matty Alou in center and Clemente or Oliver in right.

If Oliver is in right, Bob Robertson or Oliver out of the line-up since they are the leading RBI hitters for the Pirates behind Stargell.

Manny Sanguillen, batting .326, will catch.
Lee May will be at first for Cincinnati, Tommie Helms, at second and Dave Concepcion at short. Tony Perez is the third baseman.

In left field will be Bernie Carbo, a candidate for rookie-of-the-year honors; Bobby Tolan will be in center and Pete Rose in right.

Johnny Bench, who could be the league's most valuable player with his .294 average, 45 home runs and 147 RBIs, is the catcher.

Citadel Has Been Trouble for A-State

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Citadel has been bad news for Arkansas State University.

In 1969, ASU went 8-1-1, losing only to The Citadel 14-10.

In 1967, The Citadel ruined ASU's first appearance in War Memorial Stadium with a 20-7 decision.

The two teams did not meet in 1968.

Saturday night, the Indians have a chance for revenge — meeting the Bulldogs at Little Rock.

The Indians bring to town the nation's top-ranked college division football team.

"I don't think our people will have any trouble getting ready to play Citadel from an emotional standpoint," said ASU Coach Bennie Ellender.

"They're familiar to our present personnel and our players know it's going to be an extremely difficult assignment."

Ellender said the Bulldogs are a young team, the type that improves each week.
"They proved this by the way they handled East Carolina last week and by this time, they should have worked out a lot of problems brought out by inexperience," Ellender said.

The Citadel blanked East Carolina 31-0 last week after opening with a 24-0 loss to Clemson and a 53-0 loss to Vanderbilt.

Ellender saw a film of the Vanderbilt game.

"We saw the same good fundamental execution we expect from The Citadel," he said. "They have some fine personnel and they do a very good job running the Houston offense. I expect the same kind of ball game we had with them last year — close and rugged."

The Indians opened their season with an impressive 53-14 victory over Wichita State, a team with a major college classification. Last week, ASU had to work hard for a 12-3 victory over Southeast Louisiana.

"Under the circumstances, we didn't do a bad job," Ellender said. "They were ready for us. It was a dogfight from the beginning; a very bruising type of football game."

ASU's offense features the running of tailback Calvin Harrell and fullback Marshall Walls and run-pass threat of quarterback James Hamilton.

Harrell, a 213-pound junior from Memphis, gained more than 100 yards in all but one of the complete games he played in last season. He played little in the second half against Wichita and racked up 96 yards and then carried 32 times for 120 yards and the game's only touchdown last week.

Beman Ties Azalea Golf Course Record

By REESE HART
WILMINGTON, N. C. (AP) — "It was an easy round," said Deane Beman after he tied the course record with an eight-under-par 63 Thursday to take the first round lead in the Azalea Open Golf Tournament.

Beman, whose approach shots were deadly, had eight birdies and 10 pars in his 30-33 round, which equals the record on the 6,575-yard Cape Fear Country Club course.

Seventy of the 144 players broke par 71 as the course took a terrific beating the first day.

Wilf Homeniuk and George Johnson, seeking their first PGA tour victories, were tied for second with 65s. Homeniuk, who played the back nine first, roared away with six straight birdies and then leveled off with 12 pars in his 36-29 round. Johnson shot 34-31 with six birdies and 12 pars.

"I came so close to birdies on other holes," said Beman, who missed only one green in regulation. That was on the par four seventh, where he chipped up and got down for his par.

Defending champion Dale Douglas was six strokes off the pace at 69.

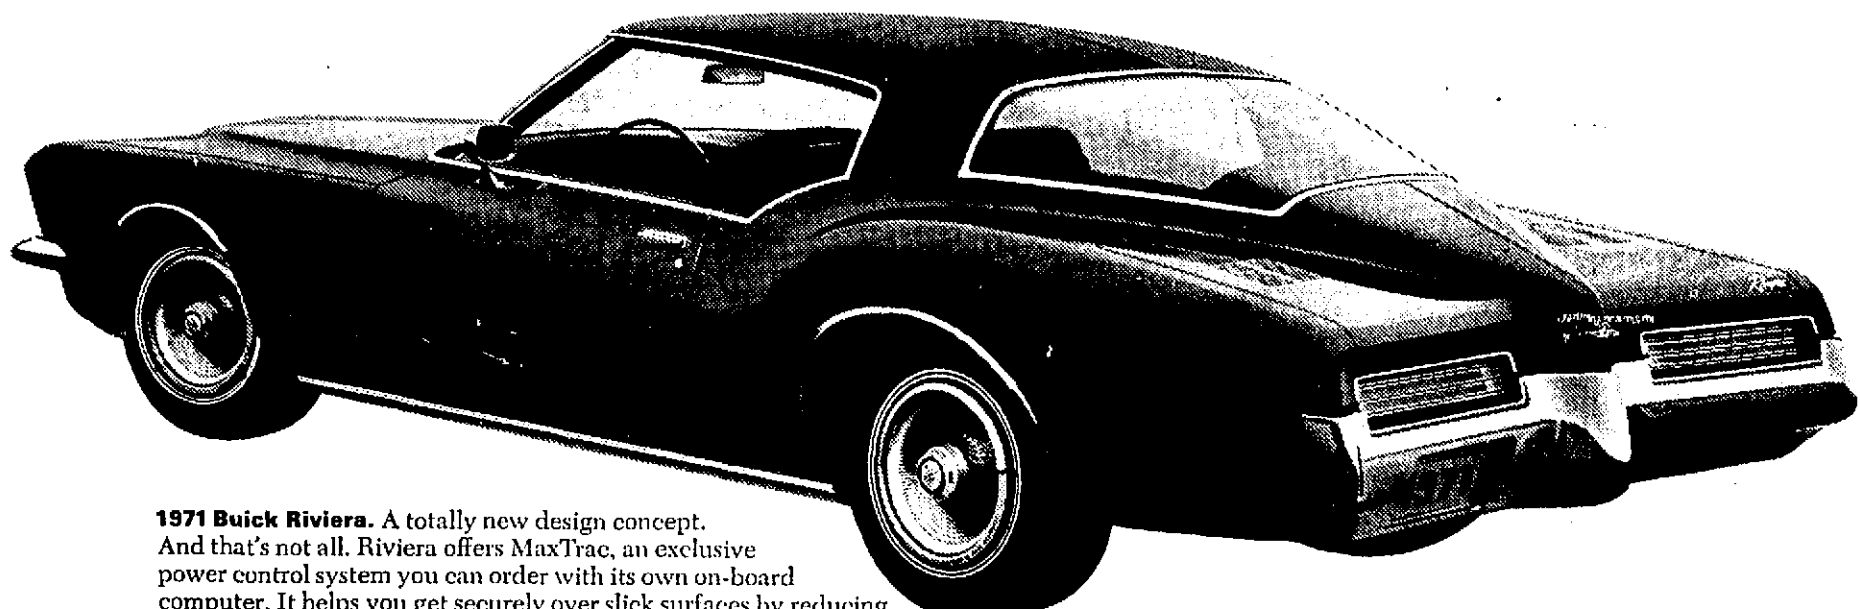

1971. Buick introduces a new set of values.

Value, not gimmicks or ornamentation, sells cars.
More people have been coming to Buick each year for just that reason. Buick concentrates on value.
And this year, Buick introduces a new set of values.
Features that will help make your new Buick perform better, last longer and get you more of a return on your investment at trade-in time.

Only a Buick dealer can offer you our new set of values. So, test your values against our new ones. Then ask yourself this simple question. Wouldn't you really rather have a Buick?

Something to believe in.

1971 Buick Riviera. A totally new design concept. And that's not all. Riviera offers MaxTrac, an exclusive power control system you can order with its own on-board computer. It helps you get securely over slick surfaces by reducing rear-wheel slipping. The new body features side-guard beams for protection, a bigger trunk, and a driver cockpit with a control center designed around the driver for new ease and convenience.

1971 Buick Electra 225. A new interpretation of quiet elegance. We've improved our Electra everywhere you look. There's more room in every direction, interiors that can be appreciated as much for their durability as for their beauty and comfort, even a new balanced braking system. A unique valve proportions braking force front to rear to help give you quick, smooth straight-line stops.

1971 Buick Skylark Custom. This is the car that has set the pace for value in its price class. Rocker panels that wash and dry themselves, big-Buick room and comfort inside, a cooling system that should never overheat, inner fenders that protect the outer fenders, and a modest price have put our Buick Skylark traditionally among the resale leaders in its class.

1971 Buick Centurion. This is our newest Buick, a city car with sleekness and grace as well as muscle. It features more nimble variable-ratio power steering, power front disc brakes, Full-Flo ventilation, and a vinyl roof on the Centurion Formal Coupe as standard equipment.

1971 Buick LeSabre. An incredible new offering of Buick value. The LeSabre, like the Riviera, Electra and Centurion, features AccuDrive, a new version of the directional stability system we pioneered. It will help give you smooth handling.

An important improvement. Every new Buick engine is now designed to run smoothly and efficiently, and with lower exhaust emissions, on no-lead and low-lead gasolines. And every Buick V-8 engine will have exclusive nickel-plated exhaust valves for smoother operation and longer valve life, and a new time-modulated choke to help give quicker warm-up and a more consistent fuel mixture.

Suit Filed to Prevent Gillham Dam

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Persons and organizations opposed to the construction of the Gillham Dam on the Cossatot River have taken their battle to court.

A suit was filed in U.S. District Court here Thursday seeking an injunction to prevent the Army Corps of Engineers from proceeding with plans to build the dam about six miles north-east of Gillham in Southwest Arkansas.

The suit said the Cossatot is the last major free-flowing Ouachita Mountain stream and the area of the proposed dam represented the most distinctive segment of the 87-mile river.

Richard S. Arnold of Texarkana filed the suit on behalf of Environmental Defense Fund Inc., the Ozark Society, Arkansas Audubon Society Inc., the Arkansas Ecology Center, Pratt Rummel Jr. of Little Rock and Russell Harper of Gillham. Harper owns land on both sides of the Cossatot below the proposed dam site and Rummel is executive director of the Arkansas Ecology Center.

"Preservation of this segment (of the river) in its natural condition is essential for the maintenance of an environment which supports diversity and variety of individual choice," the suit said.

The suit also said that periodic rising and falling of the pool level of the dam would destroy the "great natural beauty of the presently unaltered setting of the river" and limit the recreational potential of the area.

The Gillham Dam project was authorized in 1958 and construction began in 1963, but no work has yet been done on the dam itself.

Westmoreland Now Flying Helicopters

By JOHN LENGEL

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — He's rather old as Army helicopter pilots go, but one of the new crop to earn an aviator's badge is the boss, Chief of Staff Gen. William C. Westmoreland.

The 56-year-old general has been working at it on and off since 1958 when he took his first instruction at Ft. Campbell, Ky. He was then in command of the 101st Airborne Division.

Another assignment that may have interrupted his instruction was command of all U.S. troops in Vietnam.

"Because of the Army stress on air mobility, Gen. Westmoreland determined that it was logical to seek to become pilot qualified in order to better understand the problems involved," an Army spokesman explained.

Westmoreland's old paratroop outfit, the 101st, and the 1st Cavalry Division are now airborne divisions in Vietnam with about 450 choppers each.

The commanding generals of these divisions routinely learn how to fly choppers since thousands of helicopters are in use throughout the Army for reconnaissance, troop spotting, resupply, medical evacuation and close air gunnery support.

Westmoreland, also a paratrooper, completed the same training, although on an informal basis, as other Army aviators, passed all the same tests and is qualified to fly UH1 Huey helicopters.

Westmoreland is the first Army chief of staff to be an aviator.

State Livestock Show Opens

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The 1970 state fair and livestock show begins a 10-day run this morning at Little Rock with the midway opening at noon.

The Everly Brothers, Don and Phil, will perform at 7 p.m. and 9 p.m. tonight.

Municipal League Deal Apparently Stronger Than Some Had Figured

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Apparently, a position paper compiled following a recent meeting of several mayors and city managers is stronger than some of those at the meeting thought the paper should be.

The paper, prepared by Texarkana Mayor J. N. Shoptaw, says the Arkansas Municipal League has several problem areas and that the cities may quit the league if the problems are not corrected.

The report, dated Sept. 11, indicates that mayors from nine Arkansas cities in agreement with the contents. The towns listed were Arkadelphia, Brinkley, Camden, De Queen, Fayetteville, Hope, Little Rock, Newport and Texarkana. All of Panel Blames Police for Jackson S.

By MIKE SHANAHAN

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — White policemen who fired a killing barrage of bullets into a crowd of chanting Jackson State College students were confident they would not be punished, the President's Commission on Campus Unrest has concluded.

The panel found the deaths of two students and the wounding of 12 others May 14 were rooted in an "unreasonable unjustified overreaction" by police.

The report, released Thursday, drew only limited early response in Mississippi. Gov. John Bell Williams and Jackson Mayor Russell Davis said they wanted to read it before commenting.

Atty. Gen. A. F. Summer said, "My statement when they came here was that it had all the appearance of being a kangaroo court."

"Nothing has happened to change my mind," he said.

Warner Buxton, president of the Student Government Association at the nearly all-black school, praised the report, but expressed little hope it would bring changes to law enforcement in Mississippi.

Concerning police attitudes toward the demonstrators, the report said:

"A significant cause of the deaths and injuries at Jackson State College is the confidence of white officers that if they fire weapons during a black campus disturbance, they will face nei-

In This Fretful World A Man Is Likely To Be Known By His Worries

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — A man used to be known by the friends or enemies he made. In this fretful world today he is more likely to be known by his worries.

Selecting the right worries, of course, is no laughing matter. The task is a worry in itself. One way to go about it is to make a list of worries, weed out those you don't think bring out the best in you, and then start brooding as hard as you can about the remaining ones.

For example, here are a few worries we are discarding for this season, and if any of them appeal to you, well—you're welcome to exercise your darkest anxiety upon them:

The Hawaiian Islands are reported drifting toward Japan at a rate of from four to six inches a year. How soon will this precipitate a new crisis in the Far East?

What are Harold Stassen's campaign plans for 1972? Will he seek to displace Spiro T. Agnew on the Republican ticket?

How about the Democrats? Are they planning a surprise ticket teaming Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York and Grethese operate under the city manager form of government.

Shoptaw was out of town and unavailable for comment.

Little Rock Mayor Haco Boyd said he did not "dictate, sign or send any such protest and I just couldn't tell you why Little Rock was included in the list of cities. Boyd said he did not attend the Little Rock meeting and had not seen the report.

Arkadelphia City Manager Boyd Harrod said the Little Rock meeting consisted of "some simple talk" and that Arkadelphia had no plans to withdraw from the league.

The report, which Hope City Manager Garland Medders called a preliminary report, is to be discussed with the league's executive committee at Little Rock Oct. 15.

Glenn G. Zimmerman, director of the league, said Thursday he knew about the Oct. 15 meeting but had not seen a copy of the report.

The league's president, Mayor Flynn Chivers of Clarendon, said he had not seen the report either. Chivers noted, though, that the cities named in the report had city manager forms of government.

"City Managers have never cooperated too much with the league," Chivers said. "I don't know whether they are jealous, envious or what the problem is."

The league, which has about 400 members, charges its members dues based on population. The league helps, among other things, prepare ordinances, answers legal questions and promote or opposes legislation.

The September meeting of the mayors and city managers apparently was sparked by an exchange of letters between Zimmerman and Mrs. Davis Duty of Rogers.

Zimmerman said in general Mrs. Duty, an alderman at See MUNICIPAL (on Page two)

Caterpillars Hit Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Forester Virgil W. Cothren says the variable oak leaf caterpillar has defoliated more than 1.5 million acres of forest land in Central and Northeast Arkansas.

Cothren said Thursday that the counties with heavy defoliation are Pulaski, Prairie, Sharp, Faulkner, White, Cleburne, Independence, Van Buren, Conway, Fulton, Izard, Cross, Poinsett, Craighead, Greene and Clay.

Cothren said that an attack by caterpillars rarely kills a tree.

Egypt Quiet After Nasser Funeral

By NICK LUDINGTON

Associated Press Writer
CAIRO (AP) — Prayers for the repose of the soul of Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser were said in 20,000 mosques all over Egypt today, the Moslem holy day and the day after Nasser's tumultuous funeral.

Islamic priests gave their sermons on the greatness of Nasser, who died Monday of a heart attack, leaving the Arab world without its chief unifying force.

A quiet fell today in Cairo, where an estimated three million persons packed the streets in hysterical crowds to see the funeral cortege Thursday.

Antibusing Law Ruled Illegal

BUFFALO (AP) — A panel of three federal judges says New York State's widely copied antibusing law is unconstitutional.

The law prohibits involuntary busing of pupils to achieve racial balance. It applies only to appointed school boards, of which the state has only about a dozen.

"The statute . . . operates to disadvantage a minority, a racial minority, in the political process," the judges said Thursday. They held it thus violates the equal protection clause of the 14th Amendment.

A spokesman for the state attorney general's office said he assumed the state would appeal to the Supreme Court, possible in cases decided by a three-judge federal panel.

The New York law was used as a model for antibusing statutes in several Southern states seeking to slow desegregation, including Louisiana, Mississippi, Georgia and Alabama.

The suit was brought by six parents of Buffalo school children. Among them was Donald Lee, president of the state National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Three of the parents are white, three black.

One of the parents, Erwin Johnson, said he joined the suit because he felt "a totally white school creates a false environment for the children."

"If a child's neighborhood includes only whites, he is not prepared for the larger world," Johnson said.

Johnson, father of four school-aged children, is an anthropology professor at the State University at Buffalo.

The judges said busing was needed to combat school imbalance because voluntary plans "have not had a significant impact on the problems of racial segregation in the Buffalo schools."

The judges said 22 of the city's schools had more than 90 per cent black pupils.

The antibusing law did not affect districts with elected school boards. Several such districts have begun desegregation plans involving involuntary busing.

Fayetteville Plant Closes

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)

— The Standard Register Co. plant here was closed Thursday after about 200 members of local 673 of the Printing Specialties and Paper Products Union went on strike.

Union officials and company officials have been negotiating a new contract since the previous one expired in September. The union has been asking for a 37½ hour work week, a $1 across - the-board increase in wages for the first year and a 50 cent increase for the remaining six months of the 18-month contract.

Man Killed in Accident

WEST MEMPHIS, Ark. (AP) — Artie McGuffey, 57, of Blue Ridge, Tex., was killed Thursday in a two-vehicle accident on Interstate 55 east of here.

State Police said the car in which McGuffey was riding was struck by a truck traveling east in the westbound lane.

Land Routes in Cambodia Are Severed

By JOHN T. WHEELER

Associated Press Writer
PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Commandos have destroyed part of the main highway between Phnom Penh and Saigon in what looks like a coordinated North Vietnamese and Viet Cong campaign to sever the major land routes in Cambodia.

The military command said in a communique that only two of Cambodia's eight major roads were fully open today. They were Highway 7, between Phnom Penh and the provincial capital of Kompong Cham 47 miles to the northeast, and Highway 5, from the capital to the western and northwestern sections of Cambodia.

Highway 4, between Phnom Penh and the country's only deep-water port at Kompong Som, was under the most active pressure. The military command said the road was technically open to civilian traffic wanting to take the risk but that all military traffic had been halted.

A spokesman said enemy troops attacked a government outpost on the highway for six hours before dawn today. The attack, 60 miles southwest of Phnom Penh, wounded 10 Cambodian troops, the spokesman said. He reported that three enemy bodies were found after the battle at Sre Kleng.

The spokesman said the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong are now concentrating their attacks on Cambodia's highway lifelines. The nation has such a small air force that roads are the only way to supply most of its troops.

A spokesman said a mine detonated near the South Vietnamese border closed Route 1, the main road to Saigon, but that Cambodian engineers hoped to have the route reopened later today.

No casualties were reported in the fighting Thursday along the Mekong River within sight of Phnom Penh involving South Vietnamese naval craft and Cambodian and Vietnamese planes.

The South Vietnamese boats drew fire from enemy positions on the east bank about eight miles southwest of the capital and returned the fire. Phnom Penh's river road was jammed with spectators watching the action.

Temperatures Expected To Be Cooler

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The U.S. Weather Bureau is predicting cooler temperatures as a second cold front prepares to march through the state.

The front is expected to enter the northwest section of Arkansas by late this afternoon and push down through the rest of the state by Saturday.

Mainly, the front represents a return to slightly cooler, and much less humid weather, with most of the temperature change reflected during the night.

A few showers and thunderstorms are predicted as the front moves through the state. However, the prediction is for fair skies and a mild day Saturday.

Highs Thursday ranged from 87 at Texarkana to 77 at Harrison. Overnight lows were Fayetteville, 56; Harrison, 62; Jonesboro, 63; Pine Bluff, 65; Texarkana, 67; El Dorado, 63; Memphis, 67; Little Rock, 65 and Fort Smith, 62.

Democrats Fashion an Election-year Package for Those Getting SS

By JOE HALL

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats on the Senate Finance Committee have fashioned an attractive election-year package for the 26 million Americans now receiving Social Security payments.

But to the dismay of some senators, particularly those running for re-election this year, it now appears the Senate will not vote on the package until after the Nov. 3 elections.

The committee, voting almost entirely on party lines with Republicans in opposition, approved Thursday a 10 per cent across-the-board increase in Social Security benefits next January instead of the 5 per cent voted by the House.

And, for the approximately 40 per cent of retired individuals who get less than $100 a month in Social Security, the panel set that amount as the minimum payment.

Jobless Rate Highest in Seven Years

By NEIL GILBRIDE

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Unemployment climbed sharply in September to 5.5 per cent of the nation's work force and millions of employed workers brought home smaller paychecks because of shorter working hours, the Labor Department reported today.

The national jobless rate, up from 5.1 per cent in August, was the highest in nearly seven years, said the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The number of unemployed rose some 75,000 to 4.3 million, but the bureau said on a seasonal basis the increase amounted to 375,000 because unemployment normally drops substantially in September.

Total employment in September was 78.2 million, down from August but figured as about unchanged on a seasonal basis.

The report said that the average pay of some 45 million rank and file workers rose three cents an hour to $3.28.

But because of a drop in the work week, average weekly pay declined 84 cents to $121.36, the bureau said.

However, manufacturing paychecks of some 20 million workers rose $2.04 weekly to a record $136.17, the report said.

It added that total manufacturing See JOBLESS (on Page two)

Nixons Get Big Welcome to Spain

By FRANK CORMIER

Associated Press Writer
MADRID (AP) — Spaniards gave President Nixon an enthusiastic welcome today as he arrived in Franco's Spain after making the first visit by a U.S. president to Communist Yugoslavia.

Spanish radio sources estimated the size of the crowd along the motorcade route from the airport into and through the city to number about a million. A hundred mounted horsemen screened Nixon from the crowds during the first part of the drive but a motorcycle escort replaced them about halfway and the crowd's response doubled.

Spanish national radio described the reception as "the most enthusiastic."

Spain's leader, Gen. Francisco Franco, arrived at Madrid's Barajas Airport minutes before Nixon's plane landed. Wearing the uniform of a general in the Spanish army, Franco waited at the bottom of the ladder as the President and Mrs. Nixon got off the plane.

The two chiefs of state shook hands warmly. Franco's wife, Dona Carmen Polo, gave Nixon's wife, Pat, a bouquet of flowers decorated with the Spanish flag.

It was the second time Nixon and Franco had met. They first met in Barcelona in 1963 when the U.S. chief executive visited Spain as a private citizen.

In Belgrade three hours earlier, President Tito, Mrs. Tito and top Yugoslavian officials had accompanied the Nixons and their party to the airport and had waved goodbye as the presidential jet, Air Force One, took off into an overcast sky.

The President's airliner touched down in Madrid shortly after noon.

Nixon told Franco he was "greatly honored to be the first President to visit Spain" since President Dwight D. Eisenhower's stop here in 1959.

After the ceremonies at the airport, which were colorful and warm, the two chiefs of state drove off to Madrid in a closed limousine flanked by motorcycle outriders.

Nixon's route took him past the Plaza of Eisenhower named after the late president's visit.

Nixon's six-minute speech laid emphasis on military cooperation between the two countries but also stressed social and economic relations.
